Jasmine has taken bold steps to amplify the mission of SmartKids Ghana beyond borders. She takes part in leading the charge to launch SmartKids Africa Club in high schools across the United States — an ambitious and forward-thinking initiative designed to connect young changemakers with the values of access, equity, and global citizenship.

These clubs will serve as hubs for advocacy, fundraising, and cultural exchange, empowering students to learn about the educational challenges facing underserved communities in Ghana and to take meaningful action.

Her vision reflects the very heart of what SmartKids Ghana stands for: young people using their voices, talents, and networks to drive lasting change. We are incredibly proud of Jasmine's efforts, and we know this is just the beginning of their impact.

JUNE PERFORMANCE REVIEW

Student ambassador recruited in June 2025

In June, SmartKids Ghana proudly welcomed seven new Student Ambassadors to our ever-growing network of young leaders committed to driving educational change. This newest cohort brings with them a wealth of passion, creativity, and dedication all united by a shared belief in the power of education to transform lives.

These students, representing a range of schools and backgrounds, have officially joined the SmartKids Ghana movement to advocate for greater access to education, raise funds to support underserved scholars, and inspire their peers to get involved in meaningful social impact work. Their recruitment marks a significant step forward in our goal of building a strong, youth-led support system that connects global communities around a common cause.

As part of their onboarding, the new ambassadors were introduced to the core values of SmartKids Ghana, trained on effective advocacy and fundraising strategies, and encouraged to begin developing their own unique initiatives. From awareness campaigns to school club launches and digital outreach, each ambassador brings a fresh perspective and an eagerness to lead.

The purpose of fundraising is to gather financial support for a specific project. It enables us to raise the resources we need to carry out our mission. Fundraising not only provides vital funding but also builds awareness, fosters community involvement, and strengthens the connection between donors and the impact they help create.

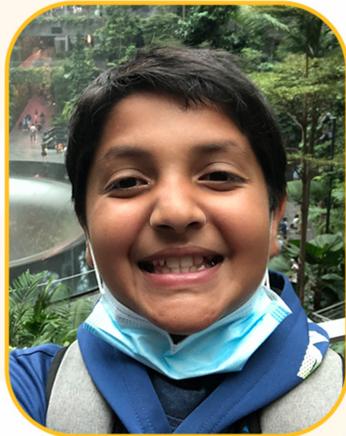

We are excited to support their journey and watch them grow as changemakers within their schools and communities. The future of SmartKids Ghana is brighter because of them, and we can't wait to see the impact they will make in the months ahead.

Looking Ahead: July Goal 2025

With the help of dedicated volunteer tutors, we aim to bridge learning gaps, reinforce core skills, and ensure our scholars are well-prepared for the next academic year. We have 11 confirmed zoom teachers, ready and willing to take a bold step to make a difference. We're excited to continue creating a vibrant, supportive online learning community this summer!
